

THE TREAT AND REDUCE OBESITY ACT MATTERS TO ALL OF US... WHY CARE?

The Treat and Reduce Obesity Act of 2019 (TROA) is a bi-partisan bill that will directly provide Medicare beneficiaries with access to meaningful obesity treatment tools, including: screening, obesity treatment from a diverse range of healthcare providers specializing in obesity care, and FDA-approved medications for chronic weight management. TROA needs your support to pass in Congress!

TROA Benefits ALL Americans!

Better access to healthcare allows for better living for all. Even if you don't have Medicare coverage, you can benefit from changes to insurance plans which are modeled off of Medicare. TROA sets an expectation in healthcare!

There is a Significant Need.

Nearly 4 in 10 U.S. seniors have obesity, but less than one percent is able to access quality obesity treatment services.

TROA is Not a Partisan Issue.

Both Republicans and Democrats support this important legislation, because obesity itself is not a partisan issue! It can affect anyone.

TROA Makes a Direct Difference.

TROA 2019 will directly help the more than 40 percent of Americans over 60 who suffer from obesity, as well as more than 50 obesity-related health conditions.

People Affected by Obesity Deserve Quality Healthcare.

Individuals affected by obesity should be afforded with the same rights and access to care as other recognized disease states. Appropriate care can change lives!

Did you know the OAC is part of the Obesity Care Advocacy Network (OCAN)?

OCAN unites diverse organizations and communities across the U.S. to increase obesity-related education, policy and legislative efforts in order to elevate obesity on the national agenda. Together, ALL OF US are advocating to pass the Treat and Reduce Obesity Act!
